HUNS CHAIN WOMEN TO MACHINE GUNS

FORMER MILLER & LUX VAQUERO WRITES OF MARNE BATTLE

An interesting letter has been received by a friend from C. A. Chapman, who was a vaquero for the Pacific Live Stock company a few years ago and is now in France. He is a corporal in Battery B, 18th field artillery, and was in the second battle of the Marne last month, when the Americans defeated and drove the Huns back, turning the tide of war to the side of the allies. Extracts from the letter follow:

"I have been gassed and am in the hospital and it is sure hard stuff to take; I just cough all the time and you feel like you are suffocating. I guess it sure puts a fellow on the bum for good, as to lungs.

"I guess you have read about the battle of the Marne on the Champagne front at Chateau Thierry commencing on July 14. I went through that, and let me tell you, man, it was sure some battle and a little more exciting than cow punching.

"Some awful sights were to be seen here on that line. It seems impossible for a man to go through anything like that battle and come out sane.

"It sure takes the Yanks to put the 'go' in the boche and keep it there. They can't stand a charge from us.

"Well, I think this last battle was the turning point of the war. I look for one more hard fight and then a peace parley. The boches are getting weak. Several women were captured chained to machine guns this last fight."

Now they are running motor cars in Copenhagen with peat gas instead of petrol. Possibly that is what we smell in Denmark. The Rockefeller will have some job 'n' hoarding all the peat.

Don't take it greatly to heart if you fall down on your expectations. A worm is about the only thing that doesn't fall down and who wishes to be a worm?

ABOUT THE "DEVIL DOGS"

We hail with unrestricted pleasure the final relegation of the traditional appellation, "Leathernecks" given to us by our co-workers, the Gobs, and adopt the better suited, twentieth century epithet "Devil Dogs," which our dumb-founded, baffled enemies, the Huns, have cured us with.

There is nothing which could possibly be more appropriate than this title, and in order to convince the Kaiser, for whom we hold an intense feeling of ill-will, that for once in his inglorious and dastardly career, he has done something which is universally approved, the marines stationed at Mare Island, Cal., recently expressed, by forming the slogan "To hell with the Kaiser," their sincere and earnest intention, and also the object of every Devil Dog enlisted under the banners of our glorious corps.

It is really a rare and marked coincidence that the boches should have found such a worthy name for the "soldiers of the sea." What is more probable than a "Devil Dog" hounding the lost partner of the Devil back to the infernal regions, where he will doubtless vie with Satan for the dominion of Hell.

Recruiting has temporarily been suspended in this famous corps. It is, however, hoped that the resumption of recruiting activities will be forthcoming in the ensuing ten days, when everyone will witness an abnormal influx of prospective recruits wishing to become active members and participants in making good the slogan "To hell with the Kaiser."

Y. M. C. A. CANDIDATE DESCRIBES WORK AT CHICAGO TRAINING SCHOOL

The following letter from Chris Dowler to Ben Franklin of Manhattan explains the preliminary work of a Y. M. C. A. field secretary before he is permitted to enter the service:

"Arrived in Chicago Wednesday, the 14th inst., after an uneventful journey. Met two other men going overseas. One with the Red Cross and the other with the Y. M. C. A. in the same department that I expect to be in. Had to enroll here with the Y. M. C. A. school for training overseas secretaries.

"There are about one hundred men enrolled in the school and I am nearly the youngest man in the class. We get six hours physical training every day. Most of the time being spent in games, many of which I have seen or heard of before.

"Have the evening after 8 p. m. to ourselves. One period study after dinner. We were handed a story typewritten in negro dialect this afternoon and it was good but not nearly as good as some I have heard you tell. If you don't think it too much to ask will you outline the story I heard you tell about the negro who met his master at the train and when asked if anything had happened since he had been away and finally ended up by telling his master the barns and house had burned down and his wife killed, or something like that. Any other stories would be gratefully appreciated, but they must not be rough, that is, not too rough, I mean.

"I am sending you a pamphlet, 'How to Enlist,' which may help you. Tonopah gave me a great sendoff at adv-a3012 the train. I wish you could have been there. Everyone here is very enthusiastic about the work. There are a number of grey-headed men here. Some I am sure are older than you and look much older and are not half so fit; and I cannot help but feel that you would fit into this work much better than most of them. From what I can see ahead, it will be like a great big vacation.

"This is the first letter I have written and they will be comparatively few because we are supposed to take notes and recopy them which takes up all our spare time. Lots of war activity here. Every fifty feet one is tackled for funds for the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Y. M. C. A. or savings stamps and a thousand and one other things.

"Be sure and write me if you can find the time and send some of those stories—dull enough prospect for you, no doubt—but it will be doing me a favor, a great one."

Meet, motor and marry, is the rush order story of many a modern courtship. But sometimes they are made mighty miserable.

Walter Lamb Regrets Inability To Visit Tonopah

♦ To Republican Voters and Patriots of All Parties: ♦
 ♦ With keenest regret I have to say that serious illness in my ♦ family has kept me in Reno and makes it impossible for me to see ♦ the voters of your community before the primary election. This ♦ is a keen disappointment to me, but absolutely unavoidable. I ♦ sincerely urge all Republicans to vote without fail, regardless of ♦ any personal inconvenience. Our issue is one of tremendous con- ♦ sequence. It involves the honor of Nevada. Congressman Robert ♦ Roberts' vote against President Wilson and the nation on the great ♦ war measures cannot be condoned by our people. Our reputa- ♦ tion for patriotism is involved. His nomination would mean ap- ♦ proval and ratification of his acts by the Republican party and ♦ the people of Nevada, whose record in the civil war for loyalty ♦ is too glorious and proud for this sacrifice. Remember the motto ♦ of our battle-born state, "All For Our Country," and study its ♦ deep significance in connection with Mr. Roberts' record. His per- ♦ sonal fortune or mine means nothing, but the standing of Nevada ♦ before our loyal sister states is the vital question. Keep the ♦ proud banner of Nevada flying high, as her record in the civil ♦ war and splendid record in the present war deserve. ♦
 ♦ adv-a3011 WALTER C. LAMB.

FALLON TO HAVE FINE BOULEVARD

Fallon is to have a first-class boulevard, purely for pleasure riding, according to the Churchill Standard. This has been made possible by the quiet enthusiasm of a few auto owners who have been joggled over our regular country roads in search of a stretch of highway where they can enjoy an evening's drive without running the risk of breaking a spring or wrecking their car to say nothing of the churning up that destroys the pleasure of the drive.

The point selected runs entirely around Rattlesnake Hill and will make a course three and a half miles long that will not touch upon any other highway, except at one or two points, for the entire distance, and hence can be used and maintained exclusively as a pleasure drive-way that will not be subjected to the heavy wear of the ordinary thoroughfare.

GETTING AFTER THE INCOME TAX DODGERS

There is something doing in the way of rounding up Nevadans who have side-stepped their income tax and in fact those who have dodged federal tax are apt to hear something drop with a cold thud before many moons.

The records since 1913 are being diligently combed over and some startling results are now in the hands of the federal investigators.

In one instance in Washoe county a party who failed to pay an income tax had loaned out some $12,000. Cases nearly as flagrant it is stated have been found in Lyon and Ormsby counties.

In one instance a big sheep man, one of the largest, showed that it cost from $8 to $10 per head to raise his sheep. The government will ask just where this cost came in.—Carson News.

CARSON LADY DIES SUDDENLY

Yesterday afternoon Miss Jennie Regan, one of the well known young women of this city, died at the family home in this city, says the Carson News. The news of her sudden death came as a great shock to her brother Ed, as he had left her but at we hours before apparently on the road to better health. Heart failure is given as the cause.

Deceased was born in Wisconsin, coming to Nevada with her parents as a child, where she grew to womanhood. Three brothers, Edward, James and Frank, survive.

JUDGE AVERILL IS AN OLD-TIME RESIDENT

Judge Mark Averill arrived yesterday from Tonopah and is holding court for Judge Ducker and will be here several days. Judge Averill is well known to the old-time residents of this place as he was principal of the Winnemucca public schools in 1886-7. This is his first visit to the old town in thirty-one years. There are still a few of his old pupils here whom he is looking up in talk over the good old days. He, too, was only a youngster the barely out of his teens.

Judge Averill has been located in Tonopah since the year after the discovery of the camp. He has been on the district bench ten years and is so well thought of in Nye county that there is no candidate in the field against him this year.—Humboldt Star.

WARNING TO CAMPERS
